ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

GLMA's Annual Conference on LGBTQ+ Health is the premier scientific gathering shaping the future of LGBTQ+ health.

GLMA's Annual Conference on LGBTQ+ Health brings together interdisciplinary health professionals, students, and trainees to address the unique health needs of LGBTQ+ individuals and families.

Open to health care providers of all disciplines, researchers, academics, health administrators, policy experts, advocates, and LGBTQ+ health supporters, the conference aims to optimize the mental and physical well-being of LGBTQ+ individuals across all age groups, considering the intersections of sexual orientation, gender identity, and other identities.

This year's conference theme—Unity. Action. Progress.— serves as a powerful reminder of the collective power of pride as we shape a better and healthier future for the LGBTQ+ community. The theme underscores the profound connection between LGBTQ+ representation, allyship, and health equity, recognizing that a healthcare system that authentically reflects and respects the diversity of the population it serves is better equipped to address the unique needs and challenges faced by LGBTQ+ individuals.

CONFERENCE GOALS

The mission of GLMA's 43rd Annual Conference on LGBTQ+ Health is to educate health professionals and health professional students about the unique health needs of the LGBTQ+ community. This includes the needs of LGBTQ+ health professionals and patients. The Annual Conference also aims to encourage and report on research into the health needs of LGBTQ+ people.

WHY MINNEAPOLIS

GLMA is proud to bring our 43rd Annual Conference on LGBTQ+ Health to Minneapolis, Minnesota! After the success of last year's conference, we are excited to enjoy the energy once again.

Why Minneapolis? Minneapolis is a leader in LGBTQ+ health care and advocacy, with clinics and health systems committed to inclusive, affirming care. Home to multiple LGBTQ-serving organizations and a rich history of public health innovation, the city provides a strong foundation to explore cutting-edge developments in LGBTQ+ health. Plus, Minnesota has strong statewide non-discrimination protections for LGBTQ+ people in public accommodations, employment, housing, and insurance, and has recently established itself as a "Trans Refuge" state to protect gender-affirming care as other states seek to restrict it. Beyond the conference, attendees can enjoy Minneapolis's celebrated park system, vibrant arts and culture, and its welcoming spirit.

In an era marked by continued attacks on LGBTQ+ rights, our community has risen to demonstrate extraordinary strength. GLMA's Annual Conference is more than an opportunity to share knowledge—it's a call to action. This year's theme, Unity. Action. Progress., reflects our commitment to coming together, taking meaningful action, and driving forward progress in LGBTQ+ health equity. By attending this conference, you will stand with a passionate community of healthcare professionals and advocates dedicated to creating an inclusive and equitable healthcare system for all.

HEAR FROM GLMA LEADERSHIP

Alex Sheldon, MA GLMA Executive Director

Welcome to GLMA's 43rd Annual Conference on LGBTQ+ Health! This year we gather in Minneapolis at a time of both extraordinary challenge and extraordinary possibility. Across the country, LGBTQ+ health care and those who provide it continue to face attacks - but here we stand, united in our expertise, resilience, and commitment to equity. Together, we will explore cutting-edge research, share best practices, and strengthen the networks that make our community powerful.

This is not only the largest conference in GLMA's history - it is also a living expression of our theme: Unity. Action. Progress. By being here, you are part of a movement that refuses to back down. Over the next three days, I invite you to learn, to connect, and to celebrate the joy of community as we build toward a healthier, more inclusive future for all.

In health,

Chad Henson-Martins, MD GLMA VP of Education

As GLMA's Vice President of Education, I'm honored to welcome you to this year's gathering. We meet at a moment when LGBTQ+ health is being challenged on many fronts, and our commitment to knowledge, evidence, and collaboration has never been more essential.

Our theme—Unity. Action. Progress.—is a reminder that education is more than learning; it is action. Each conversation and connection this week helps chart the future of LGBTQ+ health. Thank you for bringing your voice and your expertise to this vital work.

In health,

Charl Martin

LESBIAN HEALTH FUND

The Lesbian Health Fund (LHF), a program of GLMA, improves the health and well-being of LGBTQ+ women and girls through funding rigorous scientific research. Since its inception in 1992, LHF has funded 137 research projects, awarding over $1.2 million in grants. Our grants are often crucial catalysts to larger, multi-million dollar studies funded by federal agencies.

And today, LHF remains the only research fund dedicated solely to advancing the understanding of the unique health needs of LGBTQ+ women and girls. There is still a great need to understand how social determinants, especially race and ethnicity, influence the health and wellbeing of LGBTQ+ women and girls.

EMPOWERED AGAINST MPOX

Mpox vaccination is recommended for at-risk individuals aged ≥ 18 years old

Anyone can be infected with mpox, but some individuals are more at risk. Gay, bisexual, and other men who have sex with men, transgender or nonbinary people with certain risk factors are among those at highest risk for mpox.

Complete vaccination with the mpox vaccine is one of the best ways to help protect patients.

How does mpox spread?

Mpox is contagious and passed from person to person from skin-to-skin (including sexual) contact.

Most common transmission occurs from:

- Contact with infectious skin or other lesions, bodily fluids, or respiratory secretions
- · Contaminated objects, such as bedding, clothing, or linens
- · Bites and scratches from or direct contact with infected animals
